PRIVACY (applies to consumer Accounts only)

Please see Farmington Bank's Privacy Policy for details regarding the manner in which we collect and use information about you and maintain the confidentiality of your personally identifiable information. Your access or use of Farmington Bank's Electronic Banking constitutes your agreement to the terms and conditions of our Privacy Policy and our use of information gathered about you in accordance with that policy. Our Privacy Policy may be revised occasionally and can be reviewed by visiting www.farmingtonbankct.com at any time. Your continued use of Farmington Bank's Electronic Banking following such notification or posting will constitute your acceptance of the revised Privacy Policy. Accordingly, please check back regularly for revisions. We will provide notice of changes to our Privacy Policy as required by law.

Farmington Bank may collect and use the information described below about your Internet connection and usage whenever you visit a Farmington Bank website:

- the dates and times that you access a Farmington Bank website
- the web pages you visit
- if you link to a Farmington Bank website from other websites and the address(es) of the other websites
- the types and versions of browser and operating systems you use to access a Farmington Bank website
- the Internet Service Providers ("ISP") and Internet Protocol ("IP") addresses from which you access a Farmington Bank website (an IP address is a number that is automatically assigned to your computer whenever you are surfing the web)
- the actions you try to perform (for example, downloading a document) and whether you are successful

Farmington Bank may use this information to provide the Electronic Banking services to you and, among other purposes, to measure the number of visitors to Farmington Bank's websites and web pages, and to help make Farmington Bank's websites more useful.

SECURITY

Farmington Bank's Electronic Banking is designed to safeguard your online transactions from unauthorized use. We use multiple levels of protection: A User Identification System (User ID and Password and a process to ensure we are connected to your computer), and encryption of your information. Encryption is a method of scrambling your information, including your User ID and Password, so that it cannot be read by others who do not have authorization to view that information. The information you enter is encrypted by your browser, and is only decrypted (unscrambled) when it reaches our web server. For additional security, the first time you log in to our Online Banking system, and each time you log in from a new device, you will be required to enter an access code which you choose to receive via phone or email.

This enhanced security enables our customers to register their identity and their personal computers with us, so that we can authenticate them upon log in; as well as enables our customers to confirm that they are at the genuine Farmington Bank website. Additional protection is provided by "firewalls" at our web server location, and by policies that restrict access to your Account information to only those who need to support you as a customer.

In addition to the safeguarding and security provisions set forth in the Agreement, the following provisions shall apply to your use of Electronic Banking:

You are responsible for maintaining the security of your Electronic Banking Device(s) and you are responsible for all transactions made using said device. Electronic Banking Devices will display sensitive information about your linked Accounts, including balances and transfer amounts. Anyone with access to your Electronic Banking Device may be able to view this information.

In order to prevent misuse of your Accounts through Electronic Banking services, you agree to protect your User ID(s) and Password(s) associated with your Accounts and to monitor your Accounts on a regular basis.

IDENTIFICATION PROTECTION

When you enroll in Farmington Bank's Electronic Banking, you will select a User ID and Password. Together your User ID and Password identify you as a Farmington Bank Electronic Banking customer and the Accounts or functions you are allowed to access. You will be asked to supply your User ID and Password each time you use Farmington Bank's Electronic Banking.

For additional security, the first time you log in to Online Banking, and each time you log in from a new device, you will be required to enter an access code which you choose to receive via phone or email. Further, Farmington Bank utilizes a split login process for our Online Banking service which means you will enter your User ID on one page and your Password on a subsequent web page. Separating these two key log in steps better protects the privacy and security of your personal and financial information.

No one can access your Account information without supplying the correct user identification information, so you should be sure to select a User ID and Password that cannot be easily guessed by others. We are entitled to act on transaction instructions received using your User ID and Password, and you agree that the use of your User ID and Password will have the same legal effect as your signature authorizing the transaction.

In addition to protecting your User ID and Password and other Account information, you should also take precautions to protect your personal identification information, such as your driver's license, Social Security Number, etc. This information by itself or together with other Account information may allow unauthorized access to your Accounts. Further, you are responsible for protecting and securing all information and data stored in your Electronic Banking Device.

Your use of Farmington Bank's Electronic Banking with the Codes authorized by Farmington Bank will be deemed by us to be valid and authentic and you intend and agree that any communications to us under your Login Codes will be given the same legal effect as written and signed paper communications and/or authorizations. You agree that electronic copies of communications are valid and you will not contest the validity of the originals or copies, absent proof of altered data or tampering.

SINGLE LOGIN ID PER USER

Your Farmington Bank Electronic Banking User ID(s) and Password(s) are for the use of a single Account holder. Joint Account holders should obtain their own User ID and Password if they each wish access their joint Account online. If you allow others to use your User ID(s) and Password(s), you will be liable for all activities of those individuals whether or not they act in a manner authorized by you.

When you enroll for Farmington Bank's Electronic Banking, we will link all of your eligible Farmington Bank Accounts. The recommended product is Acrobat Reader. It is your sole responsibility for maintaining your computer equipment in good working order, with the necessary compatibility and format to interface with the Bank’s systems, including without limitation, the ability to support the Bank’s security measures. SECURITY PROCEDURES

You will be required to provide the Bank with a list of Authorized Representatives who are authorized to access account information and initiate account transactions and payment orders on your behalf. The Bank will provide each of your Authorized Representatives with a User ID and initial Password. Each Authorized Representative will be required to change this Password to a private personal Password upon first accessing Business Connection. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Bank reserves the right to issue and manage (i.e. reset, change, etc.) all Customer User IDs and Passwords. The Bank may also agree to allow the Customer's Administrator to manage their User IDs and Passwords. Use of the User ID and Password is required each time the Authorized Representative logs on and requests access to Business Connection. The User IDs that we issue and the personal Passwords that you and your Authorized Representatives choose, when used together, identify you and your Authorized Representatives as authorized users of Business Connection and determine the accounts and/or functions you are allowed to access. For additional security, the first time you log in, and each time you log in from a new device, you will be required to enter an access code which you choose to receive via telephone, text message or email. You agree to comply with the security procedures described herein with respect to your access to account information or to provide instructions and payment orders for funds transfers (which may include ACH transfers, wire transfers, internal transfers, or stop payment orders) to us through Business Connection.

You acknowledge that safeguarding of the User IDs and Passwords is entirely within your control, and that the Bank may rely on any communication received from you through Business Connection or from any person using an User ID assigned to you or your Authorized Representatives. You agree to prevent any disclosure of the security procedures described herein or your User IDs and Passwords, except to your Administrator or Authorized Representatives who have a need to know the information to effect transactions through Business Connection on your behalf (a "need-to-know" basis). You agree to instruct all Authorized Representatives to maintain the confidentiality of their User IDs and Passwords.

For certain services accessed through Business Connection, such as the Bank's funds wire transfer and ACH origination services, you and your Authorized Representatives will be required to adhere to the additional Security Procedures described in this paragraph. The Administrator and all Authorized Representatives shall, when required by Business Connection, input the unique authentication code which you choose to receive via telephone, text message or email. The Bank strongly recommends using a phone call or text method as a means of authentication to submit these types of transactions.

You agree that you or your Administrator will notify the Bank immediately if an Authorized Representative is no longer authorized to access Business Connection. Such notice may be oral, but must be confirmed by written notice within two (2) business days on a form provided by the Bank. If you wish to change an Authorized Representative's access level you must submit the request in writing.

The Bank has adopted the security procedures described herein for the purposes of verifying instructions and payment orders (or communications seeking to amend or cancel instructions) as those of the Customer and not for detecting errors in the content of the instructions. You agree that no bank can ever guarantee that certain security procedures will be effective.

You agree to follow the security procedures in exact detail and in a pro-active manner, and to promptly notify the Bank if the confidentiality of the security procedures is compromised. You agree that such security procedures are commercially reasonable, and that you will take all steps necessary so that these security procedures are likely to be successful under the circumstances of your business and its day-to-day methods of transacting business.

The Bank shall not be responsible for liability, loss or damage of any kind resulting from any delay in performance of or failure to perform its responsibilities hereunder due to causes beyond the Bank's reasonable control.

You shall be solely responsible for protecting against unauthorized access to Business Connection by implementing appropriate physical security measures and other security procedures. You or your Administrator agree to notify the Bank immediately if the security or confidentiality of the procedures is breached or compromised in any way, and you will immediately instruct Authorized Representatives to change their passwords to restore security.
