

Consumer Overdraft Privilege Disclosure

It is the policy of Farmington Bank to offer "Overdraft Privilege" to eligible customers. Overdraft Privilege is not a line of credit. However, if you inadvertently overdraw your account, Farmington Bank may pay the overdraft, subject to the limit of your Overdraft Privilege and the amount of the overdraft fee. Farmington Bank is not obligated to pay any item presented for payment if your account does not contain sufficient available funds. Any discretionary payment by Farmington Bank of an overdraft check (or items, such as ATM withdrawals if applicable) does not obligate Farmington Bank to pay any other overdraft check (or item), or to provide prior notice of its decision to refuse to pay such check (or item).

1. LIMITATIONS:

This Overdraft Privilege for consumer checking accounts will generally be limited to a maximum of $750.00 overdraft (negative) balance. Any and all fees and charges, including without limitation the non-sufficient funds fees outlined in section 5 below, (as set forth in our Schedule of Fees and Charges, and Terms and Conditions of Your Account disclosure) will be included as part of this maximum amount.

2. SELECTION CRITERIA:

- (b) Not being subject to any legal or administrative order or levy including a Bankruptcy; and
- (c) For existing accounts, bringing your account balance to a positive balance within every thirty (30) day period for a minimum period of 24 hours.

Farmington Bank may pay overdrafts within the Overdraft Privilege limits, but payment by the bank is a discretionary courtesy and not a right of the customer or an obligation of Farmington Bank.

In addition, the following criteria will be used to determine continued eligibility for the Overdraft Privilege;

10. ALTERNATIVES:

Overdraft Privilege is not a line of credit. This means that should you inadvertently overdraw your account, we have the sole discretion to pay or return your overdraft item(s).

Customers seeking assurances that NSF items will be paid should consider an Overdraft Line of Credit or Savings Overdraft account as alternative products.

To avoid overdrafts we encourage customers to practice good account management to avoid overdraft situations. We offer Automated Telephone Banking and Online Banking transfers to help in account management. We also offer balance alerts through Online Banking.

AGAIN, WHILE FARMINGTON BANK WILL HAVE THE DISCRETION TO PAY OVERDRAFTS ON ACCOUNTS IN GOOD STANDING (AS DESCRIBED ABOVE), ANY SUCH PAYMENT IS A DISCRETIONARY COURTESY, AND NOT A RIGHT OF THE CUSTOMER OR AN OBLIGATION OF FARMINGTON BANK. FARMINGTON BANK, IN ITS SOLE AND ABSOLUTE DISCRETION, CAN CEASE PAYING OVERDRAFTS AT ANY TIME WITHOUT PRIOR NOTICE OF REASON OR CAUSE.

NOTE: If you have previously "Opted-Out" of Overdraft Privilege, you may "Opt-In" at any time by contacting us using the method described previously.
